Submissions to the Minister

Mr. Eamon Gallagher
Department of Jobs, Enterprise and Innovation
Davitt House
659, Adelaide Road
Dublin 2.

Dear Sir,

I wish to say that the Employment Appeals Tribunal has done fantastic work to date, and in the year 2010 has increased its output by 38% despite being down two secretaries from late summer that year.

I further submit that the Tribunal should remain as an independent body outside the industrial relations arena. The replacement of the two secretaries will lead to the formation of two extra divisions which will lead to the clearing of the backlog of cases.

at present many vice-chairs and members are available to undertake further hearings by the Tribunal thereby leading to the clearing of the backlog of cases.

Many thanks for your consideration of this important matter.

Yours sincerely

Jeremiah Sheedy

Vice-Chairman
